Re: Announcement of Canadian Centre for Justice Statistics (CCJS) Release: Police-reported crime in Canada, 2014

RECOMMENDATION

Receive and file.

CONCLUSION

A full data summary of the Canadian Centre of Justice Statistics (CCJS) report Police-reported crime in Canada, 2014 has been embargoed by Statistics Canada until 6:30am (8:30am EST) on July 22, 2015. Due to the embargo, the Regina Police Service (RPS) is unable to release the full report with the agenda prior to the Board of Police Commissioners meeting. A supplemental report including the released data will be added to the agenda at the beginning of the meeting, for consideration by the Board, and copies will be available for the public and media.

BACKGROUND

CCJS, a branch of Statistics Canada, releases an annual report detailing police-reported crime in Canada for the previous year, as well as some comparative data from previous years. Police-reported crime statistics are provided at the national, provincial, and Census Metropolitan Area (CMA) level within the report.

Statistics Canada and CCJS impose an embargo on crime data until its official public release. Select members of police services across Canada are granted early access to the report under strict confidentiality agreements in order to proof-read the report and to prepare communications for when the data is made publicly available. Each year, the RPS utilizes this early access to prepare a summary report for the public that focuses on the Regina CMA's crime statistics.

DISCUSSION

By chance, the Police-reported crime in Canada, 2014 report and related crime data will not be publicly released by Statistics Canada until July 22, 2015, the day of the Board of Police Commissioners monthly meeting. The RPS wishes to deliver its summary of the CCJS report during the Public Session of the monthly Board meeting for the sake of convenience since both the Board and local news media will be in attendance. However, due to the embargo, the RPS is unable to provide the full report in advance. Instead, a supplemental report including the released data will be added to the agenda at the beginning of the meeting, for consideration by the Board, and copies will be available for the public and media.

Re: Employment Equity Plan 2014 – Annual Report

RECOMMENDATION

Receive and file.

CONCLUSION

The Regina Police Service is committed to becoming increasingly reflective of the community it serves.

BACKGROUND

The Saskatchewan Human Rights Commission (SHRC) provides the Regina Police Service with Employment Equity Reporting Guidelines. The SHRC asked sponsors to provide the following information:

1. Workforce data (statistical report); and
2. A brief narrative description of significant actions taken to implement the organization's equity plan.

These two components constitute the sponsor's annual monitoring report. The Regina Police Service has been asked to provide the current report by June 30, 2015. Please refer to the attached for a copy of the Regina Police Service's Employment Equity Plan 2014 Annual Report.

The SHRC posts sponsor reports on its equity site. This promotes the transparency and accountability of equity programs and facilitates information sharing and networking.

Since the inception of the Regina Police Service plan in 1992, employment equity totals have increased over the years. A comparison of progress from 1992 thru to 2014 along with SHRC 2014 Goals is as follows:

Regina Police Service Employment Equity Statistical Comparison
Category	1992	2013	2014	SHRC 2014 Goals
Women (in underrepresented occupations)	4.0%	25.0%	24.5%	46.0%
Aboriginal People	3.0%	9.3%	9.2%	14.0%
People with Disabilities	1.7%	4.5%	4.9%	12.4%
Visible Minority	1.2%	6.0%	6.1%	11.0%

*Women are considered underrepresented in an occupational classification if they occupy less than 46% of positions in that occupation.

DISCUSSION

In 2014 the Regina Police Service continued to demonstrate management commitment and leadership towards a representative workforce and inclusive work environment.

The Regina Police Service's 2011-2014 Strategic Plan continues to support our equity initiatives through Recruiting and Employee Development goals, which will have "...a focus on First Nations and newcomer communities." Human Resources will continue to monitor the Regina Police Service workforce demographic analysis and proactively address trends impacting the SHRC 2015 employment equity objectives. The Regina Police Service will continue to focus recruiting efforts on areas to maximize diversity applicants.

The Regina Police Service entered a 20 year agreement with the Saskatchewan Human Rights Commission. In 2012, the Saskatchewan Human Rights Commission extended the agreement indefinitely on the condition that the reporting guidelines were met on an annual basis.

RECOMMENDATION IMPLICATIONS

Financial Implications

Part I: Workforce Data

In 1992 the Regina Police Service identified that the demographic of Regina was changing and in order to more effectively provide service it would be beneficial to have a workforce that reflected the community. An agreement was entered with the Saskatchewan Human Rights Commission (SHRC) and since this time, the Regina Police Service has been striving to achieve a representative workforce.

This report complies with the annual reporting requirements for continued approval of this agreement.

In 2014, the following figures were provided by the SHRC as their recommended goals¹:

Women in underrepresented occupations	46.0%
Aboriginal People	14.0%
People with Disabilities	12.4%
Visible Minorities	11.0%

Every year, the Regina Police Service modifies their goals to match those set out by the SHRC.

¹ The SHRC introduced new goals for 2014, the first change since 2010. Previous goals were: Women in underrepresented occupations – 47.0%; Aboriginal People – 13.1%; People with disabilities – 9.7%; Visible Minorities – 6.6%.

The table below provides an overview of the Regina Police Service's progress in obtaining the SHRC goals.

	1992	2012	2013	2014	RPS Goal
*Women (in under represented occupations)	4.0%	23.4%	25.0%	24.5%	46.0%
Aboriginal People	3.0%	9.3%	9.3%	9.2%	14.0%
People with Disabilities	1.7%	4.0%	4.5%	4.9%	12.4%
Visible Minority	1.2%	5.3%	6.0%	6.1%	11.0%

*Total female population as shown in Part VI, Table 1 is 40.4%.

The increase in the People with Disabilities category is a result of more individuals requiring accommodation in the 2014 calendar year. This number fluctuates based on the Service's accommodation needs.

Part II: Strategic Plan

The Regina Police Service's 2011- 2014 Strategic Plan embraces equity initiatives and directives. The Regina Police Service Strategic Plan states support of the Employment Equity Program by "enhancing recruitment of qualified personnel while striving to meet the goals set forth by the Saskatchewan Human Rights Commission (SHRC)". The following initiatives are included in the Strategic Plan under Recruitment and Employee Development (RED).

RED1.1 Continuing to implement the Human Resource Strategic Plan, with a focus on Aboriginal and newcomer communities by clearly defining the recruiting direction of RPS and the community at large.

RED4.4 To deliver cultural training to all staff that is reflective of Regina's diversity. The bi-annual training will include information on Regina's newcomer populations and ensure recommendations from The Commission on First Nations and Métis Peoples and Justice Reform and The Commission into Matters Relating to the Death of Neil Stonechild related to cultural training are reflected in the delivery practice and course content of cultural training offered by the RPS. The recommendations are:

"This Commission recommends that all police services invite members of the First Nations and Métis communities to evaluate the effectiveness of existing cultural awareness programs and implement changes as required." (The Commission on First Nations and Métis Peoples and Justice Reform-Recommendation 5.2)

"That municipal police officers receive in-depth training in race relations. The training should include information about Aboriginal culture, history, societal and family structures. A refresher course should be provided every three years. It is important that course leaders include Aboriginal peace officers, including members of the RCMP. (The Commission into Matters Relating to the Death of Neil Stonechild-Recommendation 7)

Bi-annual environmental scans are also conducted to determine if there are any current issues that can and need to be addressed through on-going training.

Part III: Cultural and Community Diversity Initiatives

The Cultural and Community Diversity Unit of the Regina Police Service is integral in the development and maintenance of community partnerships and initiatives. The unit consists of three sworn members (one Corporal, two Constables) and one civilian.

The members of this unit sit on many internal and external boards and committees. They work closely with community organizations such as the Open Door Society, Immigrant Women, RTSIS (Regina Treaty Status Indian Services), the Regina Multicultural Council, the Mosque, the Synagogue, University of Regina Pride Centre and Saskatchewan Polytechnic, to name a few. They also assist officers on a daily basis with any challenges they may face in relation to understanding different cultures and traditions. The unit has a strong working relationship with the Newcomer and Aboriginal communities. The Unit continues to maintain these relationships as well as develop new connections.

Some of the major initiatives accomplished by the unit in 2014 are listed below.

Regina Police Service Tipi

In 1997 the Regina Police Service acquired a traditional tipi for use as a cultural bridge between the Service and the community. This tipi is 'sacred' and is only used in accordance with First Nations traditions.

The tipi is utilized to participate in special events in the First Nations Community. In 2014, these events included the Missing and Murdered Aboriginal Women's Vigil, Cultural Awareness Night (Pats Hockey) in respect and memory of veteran and Elder Howard Anderson, the North American Indigenous Games and Treaty Days in Fort Qu'Appelle.

Regina Multicultural Council

The Cultural and Community Diversity unit maintains many partnerships with community based organizations. One of these is the Regina Multicultural Council. The unit has a satellite location at the Council office on Thursdays from 1:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Chiefs Elder Advisory Council

In 1998, the Chief of Police formed an Elders Advisory Committee. The Council consists of twelve elders who are invited to participate. They're involved in Aboriginal ceremonies and participate in the strategic planning process. The Council provides oversight and guidance in matters relating to Aboriginal culture and ceremony.

Round Dance

In February of 2014, the Regina Police Service hosted the 8th Annual Round Dance. The Round Dance is a social gathering of communities that occurs during the winter months to honour, celebrate and memorialize. The gathering is an interaction between the community and police officers in a traditional setting to demonstrate the Service's willingness to take part in and understand the traditional values of the Aboriginal community.

The 2014 Round Dance had approximately 1300 participants from many Aboriginal communities and the Regina Police Service. Laurie Whiteman, co-founder Sisters In Spirit in Regina, was honoured with an eagle feather for her work with missing and murdered Aboriginal women.

Cadet Program

In 2014, the Regina Police Service continued a partnership with the Wicahitowin Foundation Inc. and RCMP to deliver the 10th class of Community Cadet Corps (CCC) in the North Central Community. There were 13 cadets in the 2014 class.

The CCC was developed by the RCMP and was modeled after the Air/Army Cadet programs. The goal was to provide youth aged 12-18, who are active in school, the opportunity to learn discipline and goal setting. Although there is a strong military component which includes drill and marching, there is also a sport and recreational component which allows for fun, healthy competition and teamwork.

The CCC is targeted to youth who display behaviours which make them more likely to come in contact with the law.

Cultural Relations Officers from the Cultural and Community Diversity Unit provide oversight and leadership to the cadets in this program.

ESL (English as a Second Language) Program

In 2014, Cultural Officers began delivering presentations to the ESL classes held at the Regina Public Library and Saskatchewan Polytechnic. This is a new partnership which will be maintained and developed further. These presentations provide newcomers with an orientation to policing in Canada in an attempt to better prepare them for any interaction they might have and to reduce the fear of police.

Other Community Events

Each year, the Regina Police Service also participates in many other community events to develop relationships with organizations committed to inclusion. In 2014, these included but were not limited to:

- Members from the Community Services Division participated in the Indian Metis Fellowship Garden Chili Cup.
- Organizational participation in the Imagine....No Bullies campaign.
- Organized and participated in the Sisters in Spirit Missing Women's Vigil.
- Participation in the First Nations University of Canada Spring and Fall Pow Wows.
- Participated in the 2nd annual event called "CluedInClude" in partnership with the Open Door Society, Regina Treaty Indian Status Services and the Multicultural Council.
- Participated in a Smudge Walk hosted by the Chamber of Commerce.
- Participated in the University of Regina Pride Week, including the Positive Space Network training.
- Participated in the Queen City Pride Parade – this was the first year members participated in uniform.

- Assist with organization of the annual Mosaic Festival and have an increased presence during the event.
- Participated in National Aboriginal Day events at Wascana Park, Circle Project and the Paul Dojack Youth Centre.
- Shared a booth with the Regina Open Door Society at the Regina Police Showcase event in May 2014.
- Members provided transportation, mentorship and delivered workshops on hate crimes and bullying at Camp Fyrefly.
- Meetings with the Islamic Association and their Board continued along with an invitation to share information on domestic violence with their women's group.
- Participated in the Santa Clause Parade using the Regina Police Service float with the assistance of the Aboriginal Police Preparation Program students from Saskatchewan Polytechnic and the Community Cadet Corps.
- Diversity training was delivered to members as a part of annual block training. This training included an Aboriginal component with teachings on the meaning behind sweetgrass, tobacco and Elders. There was also a component on newcomer issues that focused on religion versus culture and honour based violence.

Part IV: Recruitment and HR

SPARC

The Saskatchewan Police Aboriginal Recruiting Committee (SPARC) was formed in 2006. It comprised of multi-police and partner agencies committed to implementing diverse and non-discriminatory recruitment and retention practices for police services in Saskatchewan. SPARC works toward identifying barriers to employment, preparing Aboriginal candidates to achieve success in policing careers and establishing police services in Saskatchewan as employers of choice. The Committee anticipates that its practices and goals will serve as a model to increase diversity of all ethnicities, cultures and backgrounds throughout Saskatchewan police services.

In 2014, the Committee furthered the development of promotional material to include a bookmark and pamphlet for handing out at career fairs.

Saskatchewan Polytechnic – Aboriginal Police Preparation Program

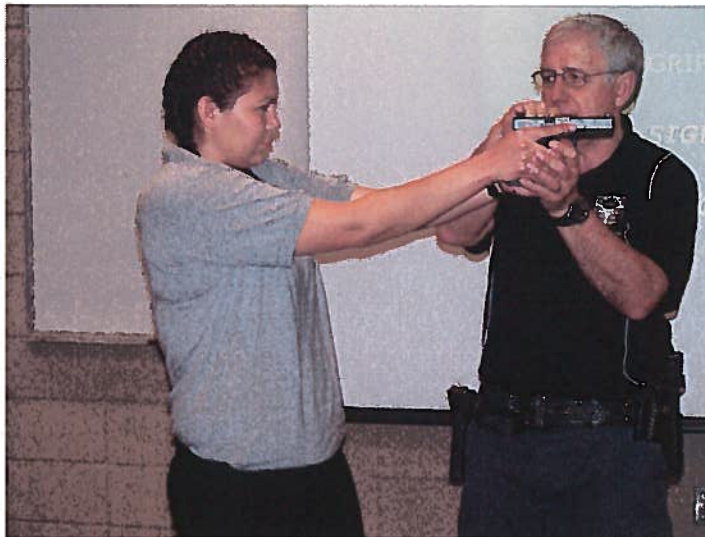

Through involvement with SPARC, the Regina Police Service has developed a partnership with Saskatchewan Polytechnic and the Aboriginal Police Preparation Program. This program runs for 30 weeks and is offered in Prince Albert, Saskatoon and Regina. Although involvement is focused on the Regina class, recruiting presentations are also made to the Saskatoon and Prince Albert classes.

The recruiting officer makes frequent visits to the Regina campus, allowing relationship building with students.

Treaty Four Citizen's Police Academy

In 2014, the Regina Police Service coordinated and delivered the 10th annual Treaty Four Citizen's Police Academy. In partnership with members of SPARC, Aboriginal candidates were invited to participate in a two week workshop held in May at the Saskatchewan Police College. Candidates are required to stay in residence and attend classes and training in an effort to simulate the experience of Police College and increase their knowledge of policing in Saskatchewan. Candidates are identified through contacts in the Aboriginal community. The Tribal Councils actively support this initiative of promoting policing within the Aboriginal community and within municipal and RCMP police services.

In 2014, there were nine participants in the Treaty Four Citizen's Police Academy.

Blue and Beyond

In April of 2014, recruiters held an information night targeting women interested in policing. Advertising was done through social media and the Regina Police Service website. There were 22 candidates present for the evening.

Mentorship Program

In September 2008, the Regina Police Service implemented a mentorship program. The mandate of this program is to increase the number of sworn diversity employees within the Service and to provide an opportunity to coach and develop prospective employees to increase the probability of success. Areas of development include but are not limited to: fitness, report writing, and public speaking. To date the program has mentored six individuals, four of whom are now police members and one who is a civilian member.

In 2014, the seventh mentorship candidate successfully transitioned through the selection process and attended the Saskatchewan Police College from August 2014 to December 2014. The candidate is currently completing his field training.

Summer Students

An Aboriginal/Diversity Summer Student program was implemented in 2004. Initially the program targeted Aboriginal students but in 2011 was expanded to include visible minority candidates. Funding is in place for three students for four months each summer. Positions vary by organizational need but generally include entry level clerical or Information Technology positions. Two of the original summer student candidates are now employed full time while several others have remained as casual employees while they complete their education.

Working Environment

The Regina Police Service is working to educate employees about the importance of maintaining a work life balance. Through an in house Wellness Coordinator and an effective Employee Family Assistance Program, the focus is on general physical health and emotional wellness. There has been research done into sabbaticals, external work exchanges, job shadowing and job sharing as possible opportunities for the Regina Police Service to enhance employee work life balance.

Retention and Career Development

All members are encouraged to discuss their career plans with their supervisors. Likewise, supervisors are encouraged to engage their members/staff in career discussions. Employees may forward requests for training to Human Resources for consideration at any time. Career goal discussions between employee and supervisors are documented as part of the performance management process. The documents are forwarded to Human Resources for tracking and training considerations.

Part V: Going Forward

In 2015 the Regina Police Service will continue to maintain and develop relationships that enhance diversity, within our workforce and in the community. Some of the actions planned to assist us in achieving our goals are:

- Continue recruiting efforts in diversity areas by targeting female organized sports teams, diversity career fairs, and outreach to diversity educational and community groups.
- Continue the female recruiting information night (Blue and Beyond) in the fall of 2015 with the possibility of expanding the scope of the event.
- Continue participating on SPARC.
- Increase our representation at career fairs targeting Aboriginal student communities.
- Continue to partner with PRIDE (Centre for Sexuality and Gender Diversity) at the University of Regina on awareness and education.
- Continue to deliver training in key areas in relation to cultural diversity.
- Continue involvement in the Cadet Program, Treaty Four Citizen's Police Academy, Round Dance and other community events which the Regina Police Service participates in, as well as seeking new opportunities to expand relationships.
- Continue with existing diversity development programs such as the Mentorship and Summer Student programs.

Dear Chief. Hagen,

I'm writing to thank you for the RPS' involvement in our recent film shoot for the Canadian National Institute for the Blind. The commercial has been a success, and is currently being aired on CTV and Global.

✓ I would especially like to thank our contact Elizabeth Popowich for coordinating, and Cst. Derek Redekopp for providing on-set consultation. Without their help we could not have pulled off the arrest scene with such believability. Elizabeth and Derek were genuinely interested in the project, and it was a pleasure to work with them.

With this commercial now on air, the CNIB is spreading awareness for guide dog safety, which will hopefully lead to fewer safety incidents involving guide dogs and their owners. Thank you for your contributions to the project!

Sincerely,
Mike Maekelburger, BFA

Hi,

This is a very nice acknowledgement of the presentation Heather Shepard gave in Montreal a few days ago and for her work on HBV in general.

Hello Lauri,

I just wanted to pass this on as an FYI. Heather was recognized for her HBV work, and presentation at the Montreal Conference. I think it is pretty impressive considering the size of Montreal, the Cultural Diversity and head start they would have had on HBV incidents before we seen them here.

Dear Louise, Ann and Heather,

Thank you for your excellent presentations the day before yesterday at the conference. Louise and Ann, it was lovely seeing you again. I hope we'll have the opportunity for ongoing collaboration. Heather, I was very impressed with the work you and your team have been doing on these issues and I really appreciated how you have framed them. I would welcome a chance to chat with you at some point about the approaches and risk assessment tools you use for training and flagging HBV and other FV cases. Please let me know if you have time for me to give you a call one of these days.

Thanks again to you all!

Col. W. Lewis,

I wanted you to know how proud I am of the way you handled my traffic violation on June 7, 2015. Even though I was at fault & some guy rode by yelling obscene language at about police in general, you took the time to still help me out. Thank you for pulling me over & letting me know my insurance had expired. I'm sorry things were bad to come to that. Unfortunately, I still wouldn't know without the ticket.

My kids & I were very impressed by your professionalism, patience and grace offered our way. Taking me at my word, you allowed me to use your phone to get myself out of a sticky situation. Even though it was within your authority & power to tow my van you gave me the benefit of the doubt & allowed me to review my insurance on the spot.

With so much gratitude & appreciation for all you do!

Samya Brown

A. Lewis, Great work! T. HANE

Constable R. Kauk, #646

1717 Osler St.,

Regina, SK, S4P 3W3

Dear Constable Kauk:

Thanks loads for the advice and support you provided me with when I phoned you yesterday. Your advice will be heeded 100%,

Although it is now over 4 years since the neighbour's pit bull attacked me on my driveway, I am still afraid. The sore on my left hand took over 6 weeks to heal and the $27 gloves were toast. Lucky for me, at that time, I turned and saw the pit bull with mouth open in attack mode. I was able to get my fist clenched and I was lucky he attacked my fist and not my nose, cheek or jugular.

I guess one would have to ask the lady in the picture enclosed how she gets by without a nose, after being attacked by a pit bull. Or one could ask the chap from Illinois how he gets by without his hands – one they had to amputate because of a pit bull attack – the other one the pit bull amputated. I wonder how the relatives of the 8 people in Florida feel after their loved ones were killed by pit bulls.

I guess it will take us a while to understand that this breed of dog is dangerous and should be banned like they have done in most of England. I have owned or co-owned six dogs from collie to spaniel. Not one ever bit a person or put a neighbour (Darryl Chapman across the street) out of work for 4 months like the pit bull next door.

Yours sincerely,

George Holizki

Well done, J. Kauk!
THANK-YOU
T. HAIEN

QMI AGENCY — A woman whose nose was ripped off by a pitbull has been boosted by the generosity of strangers after Quebec ruled that she's ineligible for a publicly funded prosthetic nose.

Marie-Helene Tokar was disfigured when a neighbour's dog jumped her in 2008 and tore off her nose near her home in Saint-Hippolyte, Que. She was rushed to hospital where doctors tried to reconstruct her nose with skin grafts, but the new skin did not take.

Tokar's plastic surgeon suggested she be fitted with a prosthetic nose, but medicare says it only covers the bills of people who have lost their noses to cancer, not dog attacks.

"Since the accident, I've gone $70,000 into debt," said Tokar.

She was deluged with support after QMI Agency published a French-language story on her ordeal last week. Several people have even offered to help pay for her surgery.

Pit bulls attack cop

BY ALYSSA NOEL
THE PROVINCE

A RCMP officer was attacked by three pit bulls Friday as she helped paramedics get into a home on the Mt. Currie Reserve to attend to a victim who had been bitten earlier that morning.

The incident comes just weeks before the Lil'wat Nation is set to launch a program to curb the number of stray dogs roaming the reserve, said Chief Lucinda Phillips. "Dog control has been a bit of an issue in the community over the years," she said. "We have taken steps with partners ... to encourage spaying and neutering and dog control and the collection of stray dogs for adoption."

Paramedics contacted the Stl'atl'imx Tribal Police for backup after they were called to the home on the reserve near Pemberton at about 6:30 a.m. with reports that a pit bull had attacked a neighbour.

When the RCMP officer, who works for the tribal police, approached the home, two tied-up pit bulls became vicious. The officer attempted to back them up so the paramedics could walk past them, but a third unleashed dog attacked her from behind, knocking her to the ground.

A resident who knew the dogs tried to help her, but was bit too. The officer, still on the ground, continued to fight back until the resident managed to get the pit bulls into kennels.

The male victim, whose face and arm were punctured, and the officer were rushed to the Pemberton Medical Clinic.

The officer was released later that afternoon, but the man remained in hospital.

"He had up to 48 stitches, but [he's] definitely working toward a full recovery," Phillips said. "We do wish him and the RCMP member a full recovery."

Police had been called to deal with the dogs before. In 2008, residents reported the animals were chasing people in the area. Then in June they bit two people. No one was seriously injured.

The chief and council and the tribal police ordered the owner to kill all three dogs, she added.

They were destroyed later that day.

Tribal police continue to investigate. The owner could face charges of criminal negligence, said Staff Sgt. Steve LeClair with Pemberton RCMP.

In a month and a half, council will launch a project to register dogs on the reserve, tag them and even organize a sort of dog amnesty where owners can give up dogs they can't take care of.

The ballooning dog population "has been an ongoing issue," Phillips said. "Obviously, more work remains to be done as a community and as responsible dog owners."

Subject: The "Pit Bull Dog" at 113 McKee Cr. Regina, SK
Dear Sirs:

Copy

On Wed. April 6th/2011, 5:00 pm I was on my driveway at 109 McKee Cr. when I was attacked, unprovoked, by the neighbor's pit bull dog. The dog seized my gloved left fist and it took quite an effort to get it off me. My middle finger sustained a wound and my glove had some of it ripped off. This, to me, would now categorize this dog as dangerous. The incident was reported to the Regina Police, the Regina Humane Society, and my doctor. I received a tetanus shot and had the necessary blood tests done. I was informed that the pit bull at 113 McKee had been given the latest immunization shots.

On Sept. 8th/2011, at around 8:30 pm, Darryl at 112 McKee Cr. was talking to the neighbors at 113 McKee Cr. when he was bitten on his right hand by the same pit bull. Because of the bite Darryl has been off work since and is now undergoing physiotherapy to try to get the damaged fingers so he can use them. This attack was unprovoked and the dog could be described as dangerous because of this.

Every day when I go out on my driveway next to the chainlink fence and the pit bull is on the other side of the fence he keeps jumping up and down against the fence making a lot of noise and making me very afraid. I am 83 years old and I don't think I have the strength to protect myself against this dog should he ever attack me again. I feel my freedom to enjoy life without this kind of threat is being compromised.

Is there anything that can be done to help me out?

I would appreciate any help or advice you can give me.

Sincerely,

George Holizki

25 June 2015

Chief Hagen,

On behalf of the Board of Directors of Regina Pride, I am writing to thank you the entire Regina Police Service, both officers and civilian staff, for their exemplary support and presence at many of our festival's events. Their professional and outgoing conduct made our community's lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender people feel valued, supported, and protected by these fine men and women of the law.

There was a time, only 25 years ago, that the RPS was seen only as a closed-minded and unaccommodating group by Regina's LGBT community. Many individuals would avoid reporting crimes or contacting the police for fear of discrimination, humiliation, or being outed. Times have most certainly changed for the better.

At our flag raising, your members were visible and friendly while keeping the peace and celebrating diversity. During our parade and outdoor festival, your members were exemplary, reaching out to families and young people, helping them recognise the police as friends and allies. Their professionalism and outreach will help us keep working towards a city free of LGBT discrimination and harassment. Issues of bullying in schools and the high proportion of homeless queer youth remain key priorities for Regina Pride and our festival, and we ask you to make them priorities for your team each day as well.

We offer our support for any opportunity to collaborate on outreach, education, and community development; and we welcome you and your fine team to be involved in 2016's festival, June 20-26.

With our greatest regards,

Phil Ollenberg, Director of Sponsorship

Dear Chief Hagen:

Constable Daniel Woodall was taken from us on June 8, 2015. His line-of-duty death deeply affected all members of the Edmonton Police Service (EPS) and the community at large. On behalf of the men and women of the EPS, thank you for the support you provided following his death.

Dan loved being a police officer. We will remember him for his dedication to public safety and for the way he treated everyone with dignity and respect. He always strived to see the best in every situation.

Your generosity, kindness and sympathy at this time were appreciated more than any words can ever express. As always, if I, or any member of the EPS, can ever be of assistance, please don't hesitate to call.

Regards,

Rod

June 8, 2015 – Mock Crime Scene at Miller High School

Regina Police Service added 13 new photos to the album: Mock Crime Scene.

Published by Kim Schmidt [?] · June 8 · 🌐

On Monday, June 8th, Cst. Costanza held a mock crime scene for the grade 9 students at Miller High School.

The students were notified that a call had come into the police about a suspected homicide (setting up the mock scenerio). The students then came into a room to see the fake crime scene and had to use their detective skills (they learned about the Forensic Identification Unit last week from Cst. Costanza) to figure out what possibly happened at the scene. It was a great learning experience and the students did great at figuring out what went on.

June 27, 2015 – CEW Vehicle Investigation

Published by Elizabeth Popowich (?) · June 27 at 10:33pm · ✱

Police Deploy CEW in Suspicious Vehicle Investigation

At approximately 1:51 p.m. on Saturday, June 27th, 2015, police were dispatched to a park in the 900 block of Broder Street for a suspicious vehicle call for service. The investigation led officers to a secluded section of the park where they observed a parked van. The officers, after approaching the van, encountered a 50 year old male who was uncooperative with officers. The male refused to comply with police demands to show his hands and exit the vehicle. The male continued to aggressively ignore police commands and reached into the back seat of his car in an attempt to grab an object. An officer present deployed and discharged a CEW, also commonly referred to as a taser. The officers located an axe and a hammer in close proximity to the area for which the male was reaching. The officers were able to take the male into custody and get him into the care of EMS from whom he received treatment. The male was unharmed and not injured as a result of the CEW deployment.

Police are not releasing the male's name at this time as this matter is still under investigation; however, police have laid charges of impaired driving and anticipate more charges once the investigation is complete.

The use of the CEW has been documented as per policy and will be reviewed by a Use of Force Committee – a committee with the Service. All uses of force are also reported to the Saskatchewan Police Commission, which is an independent body providing oversight to municipal policing in this province.

This photo was sent in via Facebook private message; We love seeing these kinds of photos! We hope Donna enjoyed the game!

"Couldn't find how to post this to your page but check out one of your officers being a total gentleman. Donna was invited to a game and had the pleasure of sitting right behind the rider bench. Only thing is donna is in a wheel chair and has difficulty walking. This officer was a true gentleman and carried her up the stairs from the field and to her seat. Round of applause to him 😊

It was an act of kindness I had to share and thought you guys would love to see it 😊"

June 29, 2015 – Forest Fire Smoke

Regina Police Service

Published by Kim Schmidt [?] · June 29 at 1:22pm · ✱

Dear Regina/Saskatchewan residents:

Due to the forest fires in northern Saskatchewan, heavy smoke has drifted south. You may have noticed the haze all morning, and it's getting worse as the day goes on.

Please drive with caution, as the smoke has reduced visibility. Please also exercise caution when you plan on exercising, as smoke inhalation can damage lungs. As well, if you have pets or children, don't leave them outside all day when the smoke is bad like this.

Thank you for keeping Regina safe 😊

I really respect and admire our Police and feel very lucky to have them. Not every country is so fortunate - there are many places in the World where "Police" are feared for their corruption.

Every dealing I have ever had with an Officer has been 100% professional and I would just like to express my gratitude. Nobody realizes how important you are more than I do 😊
