Re: Warrant Strategy – Mid-Year Analysis

RECOMMENDATION

That this report be received and filed.

CONCLUSION

The vision of the Regina Police Service is “Working together to keep Regina safe.” To help realize this vision, a warrant strategy is in place to address current outstanding warrants and any future warrants the Regina Police Service may receive.

One of the goals in our 2019-2022 Strategic Plan is to enhance community safety through effective policing. The number of warrants added and removed is a performance indicator of this goal.

In April of 2019, the Regina Police Service introduced a new strategy entitled, “Tactical Coordination” which is a strategic and targeted approach to hold offenders accountable and reduce the number of wanted offenders living in our community. Between January 1, 2020, and June 30, 2020, the number of wanted offenders in our community saw a 24.24% decrease from 3,255 to 2,466, whereas, the number of outstanding warrants saw a 24.16% decrease from 4,246 to 3,220.

BACKGROUND

The purpose of this report is to provide annual reporting to the Board and the public on the number of wanted offenders in our community as well as highlight the work of the Regina Police Service to hold offenders accountable for their offences.

DISCUSSION

The Regina Police Service has had a warrant strategy for a number of years. The objective of this strategy has been to reduce the number of outstanding warrants and wanted offenders living in our city. The strategy is as follows:

1. As part of the Tactical Coordination strategy, the Strategic Services Section, the District Staff Sergeants and the Investigative Services Division identify the most wanted offenders each week. These offenders are selected based on seriousness of offence, number of outstanding warrants and known residency in the City of Regina. Calls for Service are then generated to proactively locate and arrest these wanted offenders.

2. When resources permit, officers who are on light duties conduct call-backs to wanted subjects in the Traffic Safety Act, City Bylaw and Provincial statute categories with information about the status of their warrant and solutions to deal with it.
3. Warrants issued for offences such as Break and Enter, Robbery and Theft of Auto are sent to specific units assigned within the Investigative Services Division for follow-up.
4. Warrants identified as historical warrants – those over 5 years old and the offence is not a personal injury offence – will be sent over to the Crown to be evaluated and withdrawn if appropriate.
5. Outstanding arrest warrants for persons believed to be residing outside of Regina and / or the Province of Saskatchewan have been separated from outstanding arrest warrants for wanted persons with known residency in the City of Regina.
6. The investigative process following the request for a warrant has been streamlined to have the originating investigator locate and arrest the offender.

2020 Mid-Year Analysis

A mid-year analysis of the year 2020 (January 1, 2020 to June 30, 2020) revealed the following:

On January 1, 2020 there were 3,255 people wanted on 4,246 outstanding warrants:

- 3,165 Criminal Code Warrants
- 1,081 Provincial Statute / Municipal Bylaw Warrants

As of June 30, 2020, there were 2,466 people wanted on 3,220 outstanding warrants:

- 2,502 Criminal Code Warrants
- 718 Provincial Statute / Municipal Bylaw Warrants

This represents a 24.16% decrease in the number of outstanding warrants between January 1, 2020, and June 30, 2020. ^{1 2}

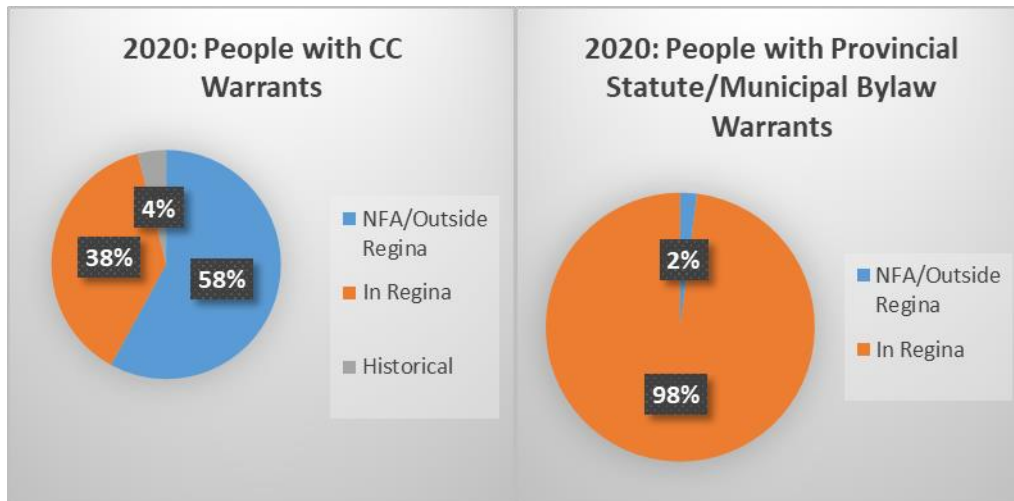

The difference between the number of people wanted and the number of outstanding warrants indicates a single wanted person may have multiple warrants for their arrest.

¹ (The Saskatchewan Provincial Court disposed of 931 charges by way of Stay of Proceedings or Caution Letters)

² (The Ministry of Corrections and Policing – Corrections and Policing had a decrease of warrant requests for breach related charges as a result of Covid-19)

As of June 30, 2020, of the 2,508 people wanted, 2,350 were wanted on Criminal Code Warrants. Of those 2,350 people, 58% are currently believed to have no fixed address, have moved out of province or live outside the city. An additional 4% of those are classified as historical and are due for Crown review. Only 38% of the people currently wanted on Criminal Code warrants have known residency within the City of Regina. Conversely, 98% of the people wanted on Provincial Statute and City Bylaw warrants have known addresses within the City of Regina.

2020: Persons with Warrants

Going forward, the Regina Police Service will continue to evaluate the Warrant Strategy, in particular the Tactical Coordination approach, which focuses enforcement efforts on offenders based on seriousness of offence, number of outstanding warrants and known residency in the City of Regina.

A Call-Back Unit comprised of officers on light duties has been established. The Call-Back Unit is responsible for providing investigative support to the front line. This includes contacting subjects wanted on Traffic Safety Act, Provincial Statute and City Bylaw violations to provide information on the status of their warrants and solutions to deal with them.

The Regina Police Service will continue to look for innovative ways to reduce the number of wanted offenders in our community and achieve our goal of enhancing community safety through effective policing.

Re: Regina Police Service 2019 Employment Equity Report

RECOMMENDATION

That this report be received and filed.

CONCLUSION

The Police Administration wishes to provide the Board with information regarding the functions and duties of various Sections within the Regina Police Service through ongoing presentations at Board meetings. One of the Service strategic goals is to “build an inclusive and supportive culture that promotes employee engagement and the health and well-being of all employees”. This report will provide insight related to the Service’s progress toward meeting the diversity targets and will highlight some of the initiatives undertaken toward this goal.

BACKGROUND

The Saskatchewan Human Rights Commission (SHRC) develops and provides businesses, employers, stakeholders with the employment targets for the four designated equity groups. The targets reflect the ideal workforce representation of visible minorities, Indigenous persons, people with disabilities and women in underrepresented occupations. The SHRC has released new equity workplace targets for 2019, which take into account current census data and as such vary for different areas of the province. The new targets for Regina are as follows:

2019 SHRC Equity Targets
	%	Change
Women in under-represented occupations	47.0%	+1.0%
Indigenous People	14.0%	0.0%
People with Disabilities	22.2%	+9.8%
Visible Minorities	16.8%	+6.6%

As you can see from the above chart, SHRC has significantly increased its targets for people with disabilities and visible minorities based on the City of Regina’s current demographics.

Regina Police Service provides an annual statistical report to SHRC with a brief narrative highlighting significant actions taken to implement the organization's equity plan.

DISCUSSION

The Regina Police Service's commitment to diversity and inclusion evolves as we continue to create a workforce that is as diverse as the community we serve. We are committed to a workplace and recruiting / employment processes which provides equal opportunities for all. The following table details RPS historical representation of the four employment equity designated groups.

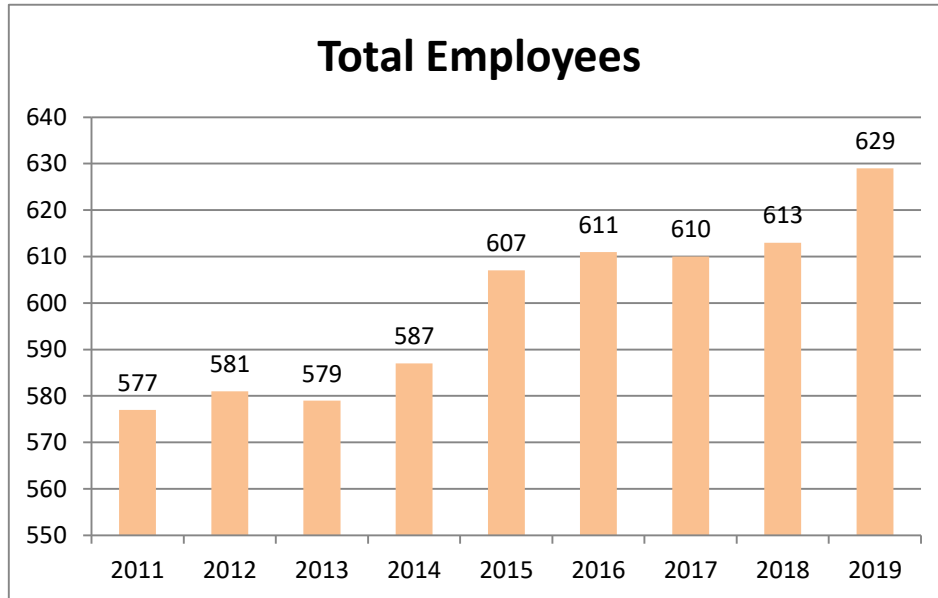

Regina Police Service Employment Equity Statistics
	2016	2017	2018	2019	2019 Goals
Women (in under-represented occupations*)	25.4%	25.9%	24.8%	25.2%	47.0%
Indigenous People	9.5%	8.7%	8.3%	8.1%	14.0%
People with Disabilities	5.4%	9.3%	7.7%	7.3%	22.2%
Visible Minority	6.7%	8.2%	8.2%	8.1%	16.8%

*Women are considered under-represented in an occupational classification if they occupy less than 47% of the positions.

Fluctuations in the classification of people with disabilities are dependent on the number of individuals requiring accommodation in any given year.

Historical Comparisons

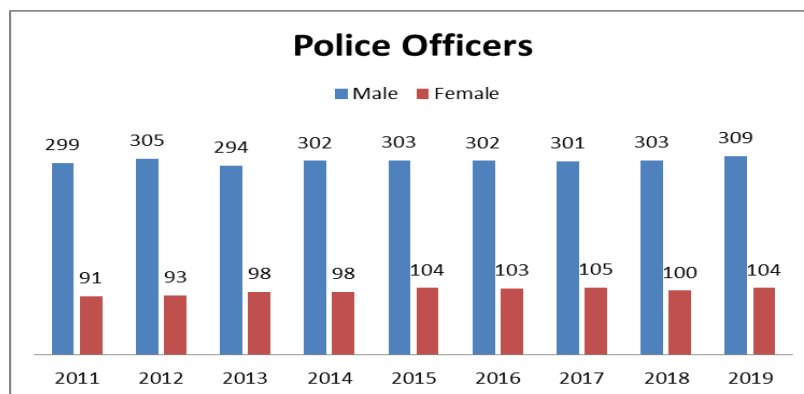

Many factors affect the ability to successfully recruit and retain diversity employees – including but not limited to the nature of the jobs, employment conditions (shift work, limited permanent civilian opportunities) and economic/job market conditions. The number of total employees had remained fairly consistent from 2015 to 2018, with 2019 showing a 2.61 per cent increase in total employees.

Female Employees

The total number of female employees in the Regina Police Service is 40.7%, down slightly from 41.1% in 2018. Although the total percentage of female employee is down, the number of women in under-represented occupations is up slightly at 25.2%. In 2019, the total number of officers increased by 10; four of which were female officers.

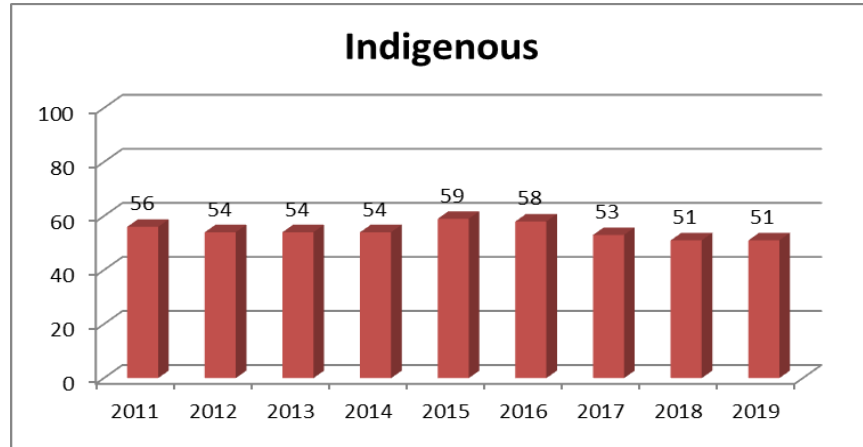

2019 Female Workforce Analysis
	Total	Female	Percentage Female
Police	413	104	25.2%
Civilian Permanent	183	128	69.9%
Civilian Non-Permanent	33	24	72.7%
Total	629	256	40.7%

Indigenous Employees

Indigenous recruiting continued to be a priority in 2019. Of the ten sworn members hired in 2019, two were Indigenous. In 2019, we had one Indigenous employee retire and one casual civilian resignation. Although the total number of Indigenous employees remains at 51, the overall Indigenous representation is at 8.1%, down slightly from 2018.

2019 Indigenous Workforce Analysis
	Female	Male	Total	Percentage Indigenous
Police	9	30	39	9.4%
Civilian Permanent	9	1	10	5.5%
Civilian Non-Permanent	2	0	2	6.1%
Total	20	31	51	8.1%

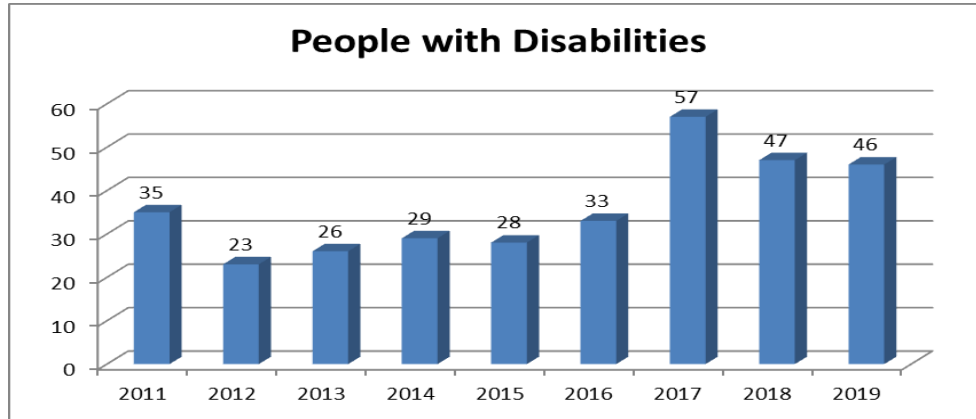

Persons with Disabilities

Typically, the number of people with disabilities fluctuates overtime as workplace accommodations are included with those who identify as having a disability.

2019 People with Disabilities Workforce Analysis
	Female	Male	Total	Percentage People with Disabilities
Police	14	18	32	7.7%
Civilian Permanent	11	0	11	6.0%
Civilian Non-Permanent	2	1	3	9.4%
Total	27	19	46	7.3%

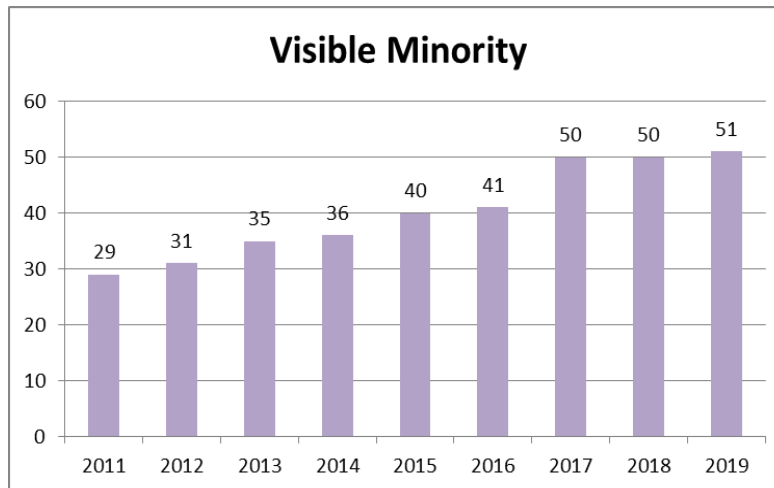

The number of persons with disabilities is down slightly; 46 people or 7.3% of employees. The number has been trending down over the last three years.

Visible Minorities

The number of people who identify as being a visible minority remained steady for the last three years. However, as you can see in the chart below that the progress in the last 9 years has been substantial. The employees who identify as visible minority are equally represented in sworn and civilian roles. Although RPS is not meeting the new overall target of 16.8%, we are progressing toward the representation goal. It is worth noting that 13.7% of permanent civilians identify as visible minority.

2019 Visible Minority Workforce Analysis
	Female	Male	Total	Percentage Visible Minority
Police	2	20	22	5.3%
Civilian Permanent	12	13	25	13.7%
Civilian Non-Permanent	0	4	4	12.1%
Total	14	37	51	8.1%

Detailed information of employment equity groups can be found in the Appendix where the 2019 Workforce Analysis provides further information on the Regina Police Service.

Overview of Initiatives

Diversity is a priority for the Regina Police Service. Human Resources employs an Indigenous Resource Liaison Officer (IRLO), a Sergeant in charge of sworn recruiting and two civilian HR Consultants who focus primarily on civilian recruiting. We continue to develop and improve practices and initiatives to enhance our diversity recruiting and advance our retention objectives.

An ongoing partnership with the Saskatchewan Polytechnic Aboriginal Police Preparation program allows our recruiters to form relationships with potential candidates. Additionally, the annual Treaty Four Citizen's Police Academy also enables the IRLO and Recruiting Sergeant to meet and develop candidates in a forum similar to Police College. In 2019, 30 candidates participated in the program. The recruiters also attend numerous job fairs within the City and surrounding communities.

Our diversity and inclusion strategy continues to focus on recruiting and retaining a diverse workforce, enabling all leaders to build a diverse and inclusive team, and offer programs and initiatives for all employees to support diversity. Critical to the strategy's success is senior leadership commitment and employee involvement. This can be seen in the work of various committees, the policies and practices, training initiatives, and the employee wellness survey.

The diversity strategy involves taking positive steps to ensure all people are represented at all levels in the organization. This strategy includes eliminating barriers faced by the designated groups. RPS continues to review and improve policies and practices with a focus on removing unintended impacts on target groups.

We will continue to implement diversity focused recruiting initiatives such as information nights, diversity POPAT training and additional education related to our written exam (SIGMA). We have refreshed our marketing materials and are working on a website re-design which will provide an improved visual identity. Providing information and assisting all candidates through the recruitment process helps to ensure their success. We hope to partner with the City of Regina for new recruiting software. This software will provide an on-line application process and enable us to utilize a voluntary declaration within each application.

We were approved for a scholarship program to be used to develop relationships with diversity students interested in working for the Regina Police Service who are enrolled in programs such as the Treaty 4 Citizen's Police Academy, the Aboriginal Police Preparation program and / or other policing programs. This program is currently under development. We have also secured additional funding for our mentorship and summer student programs to enable us to attract more candidates and provide alternative employment opportunities. We will also work to form partnerships with educational institutions, community equity groups and other employers to offer opportunities to targeted candidates.

Finally, for the retention initiatives, we will ensure a continued commitment to the Calls to Action from the TRC and MMIWG report. We will do this by improving intercultural competency and inspiring accountability among managers and employees, including corporate communication on inclusive workplace practices.

Employment equity initiatives contribute to all of the Regina Police Service Strategic Goals, notably:

- Culture: Build an inclusive and supportive culture that promotes employee engagement and the health and well-being of all employees.
- Competency: Provide employees with training, tools, and resources for professional development.

The Regina Police Service continues to support, foster and promote a respect for individual rights, freedoms and multicultural diversities within our community and within our workplace. We continue to strive to be reflective of the community we serve.
